Train Wreck Kills 20; 47 Die in Plane Crash

Express on French Run Derailed

Coaches Plunge
150 Feet Into Small Valley

DIJON, France (UPI) — A Paris-Marseilles Express crashed near Dijon today. The French railways announced that at least 20 persons were killed.

Five coaches of the train left the rails as it passed over one of five viaducts about six miles from Dijon. One of the coaches toppled about 150 feet into a small valley below.

The accident occurred near Velars-Sur-Ouche, six miles from Dijon. Dijon is a major transportation and commercial center which does a thriving business shipping burgundy wines. It lies in the Cote d'Or in east-central France about 160 miles southeast of Paris.

Rail authorities said the express crashed on one of the five viaducts in the area about six miles from Dijon. The accident occurred about 15 minutes before the train was due to reach Dijon.

The express was followed 15 minutes later by the Paris-Rome Trans-European Express, which apparently was able to stop in time.

Rescue services over a wide area were alerted after the accident. Ambulances, fire trucks and sn.

President's Request in UAW Okay

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Threatened strikes against two huge aerospace firms were averted Sunday when the United Auto Workers (UAW) voted to accept President Kennedy's request for a 60-day extension in the negotiations with North American Aviation and Ryan Aircraft.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodstock telegraphed the President following mass membership meetings here and in San Diego that the union would halt planned strike actions for the 60-day period to allow a special presidential board to investigate the dispute.

Machinists Accept Extension

The UAW action followed closely the International Association of Machinists vote Saturday to accept the 60-day extension of the strike deadline against Lockheed and the Convair Division of General Dynamics.

Woodstock indicated his union would work closely with the presidential board and would seriously consider all recommendations. "If we can't win our case before that distinguished panel," said Woodstock, "then perhaps we don't have a case."

Both Local 887, representing UAW workers at North American and Local 506 bargaining agents for Ryan overwhelmingly voted to accept the President's proposal. However, both locals rejected the latest company offers for new contracts.

Ratify New Contract

Representatives of both unions at Douglas Aircraft plants also met Sunday, but their vote was to ratify a new contract with the firm. Workers at the company's Long Beach, Calif., plant accept the new 25-cent hourly package by a 76.5 per cent majority. Results of the voting at the Santa Monica plant were to be released Tuesday.

A strike against Aerojet-General plants was postponed Friday by the IAM after an agreement was reported near.

Crippled Liner Trying Landing Splits, Burns

HONOLULU (UPI) — A Canadian Pacific Britannia airliner, one of its four jet-prop engines crippled, crashed and burned Sunday night while attempting an emergency landing at Honolulu International Airport.

Twenty-seven persons were killed and 13 others survived. One U.S. citizen was reported aboard. The plane split into two pieces on impact, with the forward section exploding into an inferno of flames.

The aircraft, Flight 301, carrying 29 passengers and a Canadian crew of 11, took off for Sydney, Australia, via Nandi, Fiji, at 10:35 p.m. HST. Twenty minutes later, the pilot reported he was feathering the No. 1 propeller and turning back.

The crash came 16 minutes later as the plane came in for a landing.

Rams Into Bulldozer

Those who survived were in the tail section which skidded to a stop on a 20-foot mound near the runway. The front section crashed into heavy equipment from adjacent Hickam Air Force Base one engine ramming itself into a bulldozer. The explosions and fire followed.

D. J. Tierney chief of traffic control at the airport tower said, "there was no forewarning and no sign of distress from the pilot as he approached for the landing." "Everything was routine and normal up until the time of the crash," he said.

Shortly before, Capt. W. Jennings, Richmond, B.C., had requested and was given clearance to proceed to an area to dump fuel before making his landing. "The aircraft completed fuel dropping and was radar-vectored to the instrument landing system," Tierney said. The final approach course was for landing on runway No. 8.

Bursts Into Flames

Leslie Word 17 Kailua, Oahu, said she saw the left wing tip hit the runway and a "mound of smoke like a mushroom cloud appear." Her mother, Mrs. William Word, said she could see the plane burning from "wingtip to wingtip" after the crash. Another witness reported the forward portion of the plane "a raging inferno, and I don't think anybody could have got out."

WARSAW (UPI)—The remains of about 200 Soviet prisoners of war killed by the Nazis in 1942-43 were unearthed in Lodz near the city airport, it was reported Sunday.

President To Appear On Telstar

NEW YORK (UPI) — Transatlantic television, the latest achievement in man's conquest of space, today will bring the Old World and the New into unprecedented intimacy.

History's first live television space extravaganza, to be transmitted via the Telstar satellite, will enable Europeans to watch President Kennedy in action at a news conference while North American viewers will see such sights as the Sistine Chapel and reindeer in the Arctic Circle.

Television networks on both sides of the Atlantic were ready to beam the spectacle into millions of homes and scientists made last-minute checks to reduce the possibility of a mishap in the experiment.

Transmit Line Pictures

Live pictures from North America will be transmitted to Europe during the first half of the show, entitled "America, July 23, 1962" and scheduled to start about 3 p.m. EDT. Europe will be seen live on North American television screens about three hours later when Telstar makes its next orbit.

The three U.S. television networks — National Broadcasting Co. (NBC), Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) and American Broadcasting Co. (ABC) — and the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. (CBC) plan to carry both portions of the program.

In Europe, the show will be transmitted by Eurovision, the network which ties in 18 nations.

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Transatlantic television was formally launched today with a live portrait of America—from a presidential press conference to a ball game in Chicago.

NEWS in BRIEF

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Four cases of infectious meningitis among Navy personnel at the Naval Training Center here today resulted in 10,000 sailors being placed under quarantine, officers reported.

Parents and friends were not permitted to enter the base over the weekend and all liberty and leaves were cancelled following discovery of the four cases starting Thursday.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — An explosion and fire rocked a Titan missile site at Davis Monthan Air Force Base near here Sunday night while 70 men worked on the third level of the underground silo, base officials reported.

Col. Clayton A. Rust, area engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers at the project, said thirty men were rushed to various Tucson hospitals for treatment of gas inhalation and burns.

BERLIN (UPI) — A Soviet jet fighter in new interference in Berlin's air lanes today flew within 30 yards of an American charter transport carrying passengers to the city, the pilot reported.

The pilot said a MIG17 approached the transport from about a half mile away as it was flying at 9,000 feet in the Berlin-Frankfurt air corridor.

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A general strike against the new military junta was a failure today in the heavily industrial areas of Lima and Callao, Peru's two largest cities.

There was no immediate indication whether the walkout, called by the APRA People's party-dominated General Labor Confederation was having any more success on farms and rural areas.

HONOLULU (UPI) — The United States plans to fire another high altitude test up to 62 miles over Johnston Island early Tuesday.

Nearby Blazes Near Control

BEAUMONT — A brush fire that has blackened 3,000 acres and claimed one life near here was expected to be fully contained sometime today, it was reported at press time by Ranger Truman Holland.

Laos Accord Reached in Geneva Talk

GENEVA (UPI) — Foreign ministers of 14 Western Communist and neutral nations today signed an accord guaranteeing the future of the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos as a neutral and independent state.

The accord marked the first major East-West agreement since the Austrian treaty was signed in Vienna in May 1955. But it did not ease another major cold war problem—Berlin.

High Western sources said today it appears Russia will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany, "possibly within a few months."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked for a total of six and a half hours over the weekend and Western sources said Gromyko did not budge on Berlin.

From this and from what Communist diplomats have been saying here in recent days they gathered that the Russians are moving toward a peace treaty but probably would hedge it with qualifications to avoid East German interference with the access routes to Berlin.

Celebration

ALTAVISTA, Va. (UPI)—Central Baptist Church celebrated Christmas with carols and a sermon on Christ yesterday. "We wanted to celebrate Christmas without tinsel and Santa Claus," explained the Rev. Norman Bennett.

West of Banning

The Ranger's report this morning from Perris headquarters revealed the brush blaze and a smaller fire, in Cabazon nearly 15 miles west of Banning, both looked much better and great hope was expressed that sometime during the day both blazes would be contained.

The Cabazon fire had spread to 200 acres by sunrise this morning, burning in an easterly direction. More than 150 fire fighters of the U.S. Forestry department assisted by two helicopter units were battling the blaze. They were reported as being hampered by the near inaccessibility of the terrain on the western slopes of Mount San Jacinto.

There have been no injuries or damage to property reported since the blaze broke out at 1 p.m. Sunday.

U.S. Ranger Injured

A forest ranger from San Diego, Alex Case, was the second victim to be injured. He sustained an eye injury fighting the hot blaze of the brush fire near here. He was rushed to the San Geronimo Pass Memorial Hospital last night and treated.

The Beaumont fire broke out shortly before noon Sunday east of Highway 79 at the Jackrabbit Trail, about six miles southwest of here. According to the State Division of Forestry, cause of the blaze was unknown.

Housing Plan Certification Up Tonight

Recertification of Palm Springs eligibility for federal 221 housing program to care for persons displaced by federal action from Section 14 will start through the city council Tuesday.

The certification, good for one year, will renew eligibility given by the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Housing Administration last October. Section 221 projects, designed to provide low-cost housing for persons moved from their homes through governmental action provide low-interest, long-term loans for housing.

The recertification will advise the federal agency that Palm Springs has maintained progress on its "workable plan" for the city.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A KLM Royal Dutch Airlines plane carrying 25 persons made a safe landing early today with one of its engines feathered.

DOWNTOWN PALM SPRINGS

City Council Gets Renewal Survey Results

Results of a Federal Urban Renewal eligibility survey of downtown Palm Springs will be presented to the city council Tuesday.

Walter Slattery, Los Angeles area chief for the federal program, is slated to make the presentation of the survey findings. Charles Kasper, acting Palm Springs city manager, reported today that an informal report on the survey indicates several areas could qualify, under the federal grant-in-aid system.

The physical survey of the midtown Palm Springs area, considered for an Urban Renewal project by city council members at the urging of Councilman George Beebe and Mayor Frank Bogert, was made by Slattery and a San Francisco agency specialist.

Slattery, who outlined the Urban Renewal program to city planners and council members this spring, told the city officials that federal grants could absorb up to 75 per cent of any losses in a renewal program. Slattery emphasized that most renewal programs show a deficit in the actual land purchase and improvement, but added that "increased property taxes and more business" make the projects profitable.

Funds available for eligible projects include advances for detailed study and plans, loan for working capital to purchase and improve property, and grants up to 75 per cent of net losses, if any.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks squeezed their third consecutive advance today out of a session marked by some of the duller trading in weeks.

Gains in the popular indicators were unimpressive and generally below their best levels of the day at the bell.

The best gains were registered by stocks outside of the averages and these included the savings and loan holding shares, electronics and aerospace stocks.

Some brokers are skeptical that the administration will be able to take effective steps to avoid a further slowdown in the economy, and note that chances of a tax cut this year aren't especially bright.

Steele and oils met good demand. Autos were better at the close than earlier in the session, and the tobacco was weak.

Sub Strike Settlement Demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg today demanded a quick settlement of the five-day strike that has tied up construction of nuclear submarines by the Electric Boat Company at Groton, Conn.

Goldberg told negotiators for the company and the New London Metal Trades Council that an agreement must be reached because of the "critical" impact of the walkout on national defense.

Representatives of both sides sat down here with a panel of federal mediators to try and work out an agreement following talks by Goldberg and Federal Mediation Chief William E. Simkin.

The estimated 8500 workers at the shipyard have twice rejected tentative settlements approved by union negotiators. The Boiler Makers and Plumbers Union has led the opposition to the recommended settlements.

Goldberg said the dispute must be settled quickly within a day or two or the government would have to consider other measures to get production on the nuclear subs resumed.

He apparently referred to presidential use of the Taft-Hartley Law to obtain a back-to-work injunction that would halt the strike for 60 days.

The strikers walked out in a dispute over seniority and sick leave. A union spokesman said wages were not an issue.

Traffic Flow At Airport Recorded

The flow of traffic in and out of Palm Springs Airport has been observed and recorded by a team of experts from the Federal Aviation Agency during the past few days. Their findings will determine whether or not Palm Springs will get a control tower in the very near future.

Traffic in and out of the local facility includes regular flights of Western, Bonanza and the large airlift Constellations used to transport marines from the base in Twentynine Palms.

The researchers indicated that favorable action would result from their study and departed Sunday for Thermal. Ironically the traffic was lighter than it has been all summer; however, it was sufficient to warrant the survey team to recommend a tower for the airport.

There have been some near accidents, and although the unicorn can be used by the incoming planes requesting landing instructions, the majority of them land without making contact, the airport reports.

Tandem Driving, Double Vision

Palm Springs police did a quick double-take and sped to the scene when a local lady reported that her chauffeur had driven off in his car plus her car.

The tandem driving report turned out to have been the result of double vision, an investigating officer reported. The chauffeur, who decided to withdraw to his Los Angeles home, was packing his car to leave. As a policeman watched, the gentleman drove away, in his car.

Bond Issue Accounting For Council

A complete accounting of expenditures of the 1949 Parks and Recreation bond issue will be distributed and probably discussed at tomorrow night's meeting of the city council.

The breakdown was requested by Councilman Earle Strebe pursuant to some expressed concern that not enough of the money had been spent on Tamarisk Park in accordance with pre-voting time publicity.

One of the main objectives of the $400,789 bond issue was to make the Polo Grounds adequate and professional in every detail for major league baseball training. Subsequently the grounds have been adopted by the Los Angeles Angels for spring training.

The net expenditures of bond issue funds for the Polo Grounds is $311,457.61 and moneys expended on Tamarisk Park amount to $170,144.15, according to the report prepared by Finance Director, Shelby V. Langford.

Jack Baron Hit By Heart Attack Over Weekend

Jack Baron, 56, Palm Springs civic worker and investment official, was admitted to Desert Hospital over the weekend after a coronary attack, his office announced today.

Baron, who lives at 679 Beverly Drive, is under intensive care, with no visitors allowed, his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Baron, reported.

A past president of the Palm Springs Optimist Club, Baron has been active in civic affairs here, and in cooperative programs with service clubs in neighboring communities. He was hospitalized here in 1961 after a heart attack.

Bridge Opened In 29 Palms

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The $34,000 Flood Control project bridge has been opened to traffic here.

The nearly completed project being constructed with funds appropriated by the County Board of Supervisors is located in Adobe Road two blocks north of the 29 Palms Highway.

The tunnel just west of the bridge is still under construction but will not affect the steady traffic flow a spokesman said.

City Council Will Face Grand Prix on Airport

The Palm Springs City Council will consider a proposed airport grand prix Tuesday.

Chances for approval of the race permit sought by promoter Merrill Lowell-operator of a motor raceway in Mexico City — appeared questionable, in face of opposition from the Palm Springs Airport Commission.

The commission, which had heard Lowell's proposal in June, reviewed the matter with him July 6, and ruled no change in their policy prohibiting auto races on the municipal airport.

The commission held that facilities had been damaged in previous road races here, and scheduled airlines and private planes were inconvenienced during the events. Delmar Canday, airport manager, advised Charles Kasmer, acting city manager.

A native of Missouri, he is survived by his wife, Blanche, and brother, John Austin, of Carlinville, Ill. Interment will be in the Green Hills Memorial Park.

Hi-Desert Co-op Will Appeal Court Decision

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The board of directors, of Desert Electric Cooperative at a special meeting has decided to appeal the decision handed down by Judge Curtis calling mail ballots invalid.

Reasons given by Judge Curtis were that the mail ballots were not signed and the wording differed from that used at the election meeting.

Spokesman for the present board, Ivan Aspaas, secretary and treasurer, stated that the majority of the board felt that inasmuch as the majority of the members of the DEC voted to retain the present board that, if they did not appeal, they would not in all fairness be representing them.

Bayard Rountree and William Findley, attorneys for the present board, have been instructed to appeal the Judge's decision once the court order has been signed.

Racial Injunction Lift Sought

ALBANY Ga. (UPI) — Negro leaders planned today to ask a federal judge to lift an injunction against racial demonstrations such as the one here Saturday night which resulted in the arrest of 161 Negroes.

The injunction, issued shortly before the mass arrests, bars certain Negro organizations and their leaders from organizing potest demonstrations in this race-troubled south Georgia city.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a leader in the desegregationist Albany Movement, said such injunctions are now being used in the South "to block the movement to exercise and achieve constitutional rights for Negro people."

City officials obtained the order from Federal Judge Robert Elliott at nearby Columbus. Negro leaders said they would ask Federal Judge W. A. Boodle here to strike down the order.

Despite the mandate, obtained after city officials learned of plans for a mass protest march on City Hall, about 600 Negroes marched in waves and 161 were arrested. Dr. W. G. Anderson, one of the Negro leaders, complained that police "cut off the line and arrested only who they wanted."

He said the arrested Negroes, who have already crowded City Jail to overflowing, would post no bonds. Similar demonstrations here last December resulted in the arrest of more than 700 Negroes.

Try This Curry in A Hurry

Reach first into the freezer, then the spice cabinet, and then the pantry shelf, and you can prepare this appetizing shrimp curry in less than 20 minutes. Frozen shrimp, cleaned and ready to cook, are used along with instant onions (no peeling under water from tap or eyes), a quick turn of the can opener for the cream of mushroom soup and chow mein noodles, an even faster hole punched in the evaporated milk, and your main dish is practically prepared. It's as delicious as it is speedy. This recipe for 4 servings doubles easily.

Shrimp Curry with Noodles
1 package (7 ounces) frozen shrimp
2 tbsp. butter
2 tsp. instant minced onion
1 1/2 tsps. curry powder
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup evaporated milk
1 (5-ounce) can chow mein noodles

Cook and drain shrimp according to package directions. In a medium size saucepan melt butter over low heat. Stir in onion and curry powder. Remove from heat and stir in soup, mixing well. Slowly blend in the creamy smooth evaporated milk. Return to low heat and heat to serving temperature, stirring constantly. Add shrimp and cook and stir 1 to 2 minutes longer. Serve over oven-heated chow mein noodles. Garnish with additional shrimp and black olives, if desired.

Mrs. Salazar Gives 'Company' Recipe

Mexican Cooking Takes Time

By LEE CHRISTOPHER

Mrs. Rudy Salazar is one of those memorable cooks who are the despair of their friends and imitators (and, incidentally, of interviewers). She never measures anything.

"The way I cook," she says, "I just pour."
The results are mouth-watering. But when asked for a recipe, she is hard put to give definite directions, for she prepares her delectable delights with a sure instinct, a deft hand, and no set rules whatsoever. Yet if one makes a mistake when trying to capture her cooking secrets on paper, she spots it at once. She definitely knows how she achieves such excellent results.

A Welcoming Home

Although quiet and somewhat shy, Mrs. Salazar is the guiding spirit of a warm and comfortable home, and the doors of the Salazar house on 3732 E. Sunny Dunes are open always to an almost unceasing flow of neighbors and friends — friends not only of herself and her husband, a landscape contractor, but also of their 14-year-old son, Rudy Jr., a student at Coffman Junior High.

Those neighbors and friends consider themselves particularly lucky if they are invited to one of her typical Mexican dinners, at which she serves tacos with flank steak (her own original recipe), and hot sauce, Spanish rice, re-fried beans, and rice pudding. Any one of these dishes may sound pretty much run-of-the-mill — but each is made superbly by her own inimitable touch.

Time Is Important

Her secret word is Time. "Everything must be cooked long and slowly," she insists. "It takes time to prepare a good meal. If I don't have that time," she laughs, "my family gets scrambled egg sandwiches."

Although Time is the magic word of her cooking, Time seems to have passed her by. It is almost impossible to believe that she is a grandmother. As Victoria Chacon, she came with her family from Texas to Palm Springs in 1927, when the only shop in town was the Palm Springs Department Store.

Proud Family

Now, in addition to Rudy, she has a son, Joseph A. Garcia of Palm Springs; he and his wife, Rose, are the parents of three-year-old Joe Jr. Mrs. Salazar's daughter, Mrs. Emilio Contreras, who also lives in Palm Springs with her husband, has three children—Mike, 6, Emilio, 3, and tiny 4-month-old Justina, "the first girl in the family."

The whole family thinks mother is a wonderful cook.

She was quite happy to reveal some of her favorite recipes, "but," she added, "I can't promise anything." And that was when she said, "When I cook, I just pour."

So here are some of Mrs. Salazar's "just pouring" recipes.

Tacos with Flank Steak

Purchase one large flank steak and 12 fresh cornmeal tortillas. (The fresh tortillas shipped in daily from a store in Indio are better than the frozen ones, Mrs. Salazar believes. They are also available at a local Mexican restaurant.)

Put flank steak into salted water with pepper and one clove of garlic. Cover and simmer over very low flame until meat has fallen almost into shreds and water is gone (about 3 hours). Finish pull-

CUCUMBER DRESS-UP

Cucumbers in sour cream are superlative with hot or cold fish and shellfish. Combine 1/2 cup well-drained, unpeeled, finely chopped cucumbers with 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped with 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Or fold cucumbers and seasonings into 1 cup dairy sour cream.

ing meat into shreds and set aside.

While meat is cooking, chop one large head of lettuce into strips, and grate a generous amount of yellow longhorn cheese. Put in refrigerator.

Just before time to serve, warm tortillas on top of stove in large UNGREASED skillet or grill over very low flame, being careful not to burn. Then while still warm, place tortillas on cloth towel and cover with a second towel so that they can steam and become soft and pliable.

Place meat on tortillas, fold in half, fasten with a toothpick, and fry gently in cooking oil until golden. Remove from oil, drain on paper towel, remove toothpicks, and open tortillas. Now add the cheese onto the meat, and top with shredded lettuce. Do not reclose. Arrange the little open "boats" on a large platter, from which guests will help themselves, adding the desired amount of hot sauce.

Hot Sauce

Mrs. Salazar's hot sauce is very hot indeed. This recipe will be approximately enough for 12 tacos.

Select 12 dried Japanese chili peppers (they MUST be the Japanese kind), and toast gently in a dry skillet (ungreased) until brown. Cool until crisp and then mash to powder-like fineness.

Stir chili peppers into 1 cup canned tomatoes with 1 clove garlic. Add salt and oregano to taste. Blend well. Do not cook. Store in refrigerator until served.

Spanish Rice

This is one of Mrs. Salazar's best-appreciated dishes. Into a skillet, pour 3/4 cup cooking oil. Add 1 cup UNCOOKED rice and fry slowly until golden brown and crispy. Add chopped green onions to taste and stir gently, simmering until onions are cooked through. Lower flame. Lightly flatten out rice, make small depression in center, and pour into depression 1 small can of tomato sauce. DO NOT STIR. Cover and let simmer over very low flame for about 15 minutes.

Now add 3 cups water, salt, and pepper, and let come to a boil. Lower flame immediately, cover, and simmer gently for about 20 minutes or until rice is cooked through.

Re-Fried Beans

Simmer dried pinto beans in salted water 3 to 4 hours or until soft. (Should have 3 cups cooked beans.) Drain.

Heat 1 cup cooking oil in skillet. (Oil must be very hot so that grease does not settle on top of beans.) Add cooked beans and fry, mashing beans in the process. When finished (about 15 minutes), sprinkle with grated longhorn cheese, and serve immediately.

Rice Pudding

This is one of Mrs. Salazar's most sought-after recipes. Put 2 cups uncooked rice in 4

SAUCE SUCCESS

The knack of making a good cream sauce isn't difficult when you follow these simple rules: Melt the butter slowly, stir in the flour, and heat until bubbly. Add milk gradually, and stir quickly until smooth. Then cook, stirring constantly, until mixture simmers and thickens.

cups water (unsalted) and bring to boil. Lower flame, stir only once, cover, and simmer very slowly until all water is gone. Remove from flame. Now add one large can evaporated milk and blend with sugar and cinnamon to taste. Do not cook any more. Place in refrigerator until serving time.

If raisins are added, pour rice mixture with raisins blended into a casserole, and place in oven a few minutes until raisins are puffed up.

SESAME ADDS INTEREST

Tasty Twists Go with Salad

The hottest summer day will seem a little cooler when you serve a hearty salad and these Herb Sesame Twists accented with dill and summer savory. And you will stay cool, too, for your salad meal can be prepared ahead of time — even the little biscuit twists can be partially pre-baked as "brown 'n' serve" rolls to be reheated shortly before serving.

For partially pre-baking, bake the twists 6 to 8 minutes, or until the edges just begin to brown. Cool, wrap carefully, and store in your refrigerator or freezer until ready to use. Then unwrap the twists, place on baking sheets, and allow to thaw at room temperature. Bake in a very hot oven another 6 to 8 minutes, or until golden brown.

You will see that the ingredients call for toasted sesame seed; to prepare, place seeds in hot skillet and cook, stirring occasionally, until golden brown (about 5 minutes).

For an equally easy dessert to climax your salad-and-Twist menu slice bakery-fresh angel food cake and serve a la mode with vanilla ice cream and a fresh fruit sauce.

Frosty glasses of iced tea, coffee, or lemonade complete this easy summer supper.

1/4 cup shortening
2-3 to 1 cup milk
1 egg white, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons sesame seed, toasted

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Stir in dill weed

CHEESE CARE
Cheese, whether natural or packaged, requires refrigeration. Cover all cheese tightly in plastic containers or jars, or wrap well in aluminum foil, waxed paper, or transparent plastic household wrap. Processed packaged cheeses are pasteurized and change very little when left unopened without refrigeration, but should be refrigerated as soon as exposed to air.

and summer savory. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Divide dough in half. Roll first half under palms of hands to form a roll 1-inch in diameter and about 10 inches long. Cut into 18 equal slices (about 1/2 inch each). Roll each slice under palms of hands to form a pencil-like strip 10 inches long. Fold strip in half and twist twice from each direction. Place on ungreased baking sheet and press down lightly. Brush with egg white and sprinkle with toasted sesame seeds. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Repeat with remaining dough. Makes 3 dozen small twists.

Superlative way to serve honey is to blend equal parts of honey and butter to spreading consistency for topping toast, rolls, pancakes, and waffles. Vary it by mixing equal parts of butter, honey, and peanut butter or whipped cream.

pre-baked twists are kept in the freezer until ready for use. With the salad and rolls, serve vanilla ice cream and fresh fruit sauce atop bakery-fresh angel food cake. Iced tea or coffee, or frosty lemonade complete your hot-weather menu.

'THE ELEVENTH HOUR'

New Fall TV Show Will Deal With Psychiatry

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Psychotics of the world unite! We now have our own television series. Beginning this fall our neuroses and tendencies to paranoia and schizophrenia will be laid bare by actor Wendell Corey playing a head-shrinking version of "Dr. Kildare."

"The Eleventh Hour," already shooting at MGM studios, originally was filmed as a segment of the Kildare series but proved so potent producer Norman Felton decided it could stand on its own merits.

"We reshot the scenes that included Dick Chamberlain and Ray Massey (the Kildare stars) and converted the show into a pilot for 'The Eleventh Hour,'" Felton said in the studio commissary.

Producer Felton, vowing he's never been on a psychiatrist's couch, believes a doctor with pencil and notebook is as formidable a television hero as the M.D. with a scalpel in one hand and a favorite nurse in the other.

He could be right. A new movie starring Montgomery Clift is titled "Freud."

"Psychiatry is opening up now and people are beginning to accept it as a normal means of healing people," he said.

"Perhaps our show can help move the curtain of doubt a little further aside. Medical and psychiatric treatment are inseparable. Kildare combines the two just as most doctors do."

Felton, a mild mannered man with bland features and a smooth voice, apparently is free of suspicious behavior patterns.

At least he was rational enough to convince a group of couch pilots to act as advisors for the NBC show. This panel of psychiatrists passes on scripts and authenticates technical jargon and treatment.

"They assign one psychiatrist to okay the script. It is then given to a regular medical doctor for a second check and finally to another psychiatrist for good measure," Felton said.

"Our subject matter will be television in terms of mental health, but it won't be semi-documentary or preachy. We want to find a broad audience which would enable us to reach millions of viewers who could profit by the show."

From Felton's clinical tone of voice it sounded as if viewers would be less than grateful if they did not watch the show from a supine position on a contour couch.

It should prove a source of encouragement for do-it-yourself analysts.

"Some of our shows will be purely engrossing entertainment," Felton went on. "We may have two episodes which will not help troubled people at all, but the third might deal with emotional problems of a teen-age marriage, or middle-age blues."

Real High-Rise Peek-a-Boo

Proponents of high-rise buildings in Palm Springs received a bit of moral support this week from a high official source—the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The NASA announcement of their plans for Mariner, a new 446-pound space ship with an electronic eye, sets a precedent high-rise advocates can recite in arguments supporting their cause.

One of the objections of those who fear the results of change, such as high-rise structures, was that it could be an intrusion on the privacy of sun-bathers, a species numerous in the Desert Empire.

They were afraid that people on the higher floors of these proposed new tall buildings, once bearing the undignified name of sky-scrappers, could peer down at the ground-level swimming pools and spy on those seeking a golden-brown tan under our year-around sun. The snoopers might even employ binoculars.

But now the men of NASA are planning a little peeking of their own. They have deliberately made Mariner a prying, inquisitive robot, designed to penetrate the cloud bank which constantly shields Venus from curious eyes. In about 100 days, so the scientists say, Mariner is going to sneak through those clouds and fasten his electronic eye on what goes on behind them. Talk about snooping!

And they chose Venus. Venus was named after the Goddess of Love by the ancients probably because of that shielding cloud cover. Women wore more in those days than they do now.

So if NASA, through their prime spy, Mariner, can do it, what's wrong with a Peeping Thomas, equipped with high-power bird-watching glasses sitting on the tenth floor of a high-rise building? A better show than on the average TV menu.

Perhaps swimming pools will come equipped with fog-machines. Some people claim you get a better tan on a hazy day, anyway.

Opponents of change who base their objections on the law against the invasion of privacy have lost a point. Uncle Sam is setting a precedent.

Another proof of the price of progress. These are changing times.

We believe that the medical care for the aged proposal, known as HR-4222 or the King-Anderson bill, is a bad deal for farm people, old or young. Let's forget for a moment whether we are Democrats or Republicans, whether we are for or against the American Medical Association, and consider what this proposed legislation will do for us and how much it will cost.

The proposed law would make medical care for persons over 65 an integral part of social security tax. However, there are definite limitations on what it promises to do and no limitations on how much it may add to social security taxes in years to come.

The benefits . . . are a long way from taking care of the total medical needs of the older person. Under the provisions you have a "deductible" of $10 a day for the first nine days of hospitalization. Since the average hospital stay for an older person runs around seven days, it is clear that you will still be paying a good share of your hospital bill.

The proposed bill makes no distinction between those who need help with their medical expenses and those who do not. The wealthy get the same benefits as the poor. Some older people are truly in need, but it is also true that a large proportion of older people are quite well off. In fact, they are better off than young folks who are struggling to get started in their life's work and wrestling with the peak expenses of a growing family. We have no right to assume that all people over 65 are in need.

We should also remember that this is a compulsory tax which rests most heavily on the young. Those who work for a commercial firm are lucky in that the company picks up half the cost of social security. Farmers aren't that lucky. Because they are self-employed they have to pay the entire cost. Many already approach the time for the social security payment with a good deal of worry and dread. This tax has a present ceiling of about nine percent, but the rate, as well as the amount of income it is figured on, can be moved upward at the whim of Congress.

The argument that the old-age medical care feature will cost only one-half of one percent is scant comfort when we consider the present burden of social security taxes and the fact they can and will be raised to meet the costs of the future.

Medical care for the aged through social security picks up only a small part of the idea that everything is being taken care of. It will undoubtedly have a bad effect on Blue Cross and other voluntary insurance we have worked so hard to establish. These voluntary programs have gone out of their way to establish special coverages for the aged and disaster clauses that protect the insured in the event of long and costly illness.

Nor do we believe the government has the moral right to increase taxes now to take care of people who can take care of themselves.

Yes, we do need to improve our programs for helping older people who are in need. We have a good beginning in state and local assistance programs, in the recently enacted Kerr-Mills law for matching state and federal funds for this purpose, and in practices already well-established in the medical profession. Perhaps these can be improved. They are not likely to be improved if we blanket everybody under social security and let ourselves think that the job has been done.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Rejected Love Must Not Turn to Hate

WASHINGTON — "The woman scorned," said Dr. Clarence W. Couchmaster, the old psychiatrist, "has nothing on a President scorned. All of Mr. Kennedy's amorous advances to the business community have been repulsed. Businessmen eat his luncheons, listen to his honeyed words, gobble up his deprecation concessions, and will be glad to receive a tax cut — but they don't love him, and hell hath no fury . . ."

Yet the President is a pragmatic politician. Mencken once said of Roosevelt, who is called Kennedy's model, that if popularity called for cannibalism, a missionary would be fattened for the pot, come Thursday. Mr. Kennedy knows that hostility of the Main Street businessman is going to hurt Democratic candidates for Congress in 1962. It might pull down the Administration in 1964. So the President will do anything, just anything, to pitch woo on the Rialto. Well, won't he?

"Mencken is right," said Couchmaster. "But so is Keats, who wrote that Fame, or Success, will still be coy to those who woo her with too slavish knees, but makes surrender to some thoughtless boy, and dotes the more upon the heart at ease. The business community is like that. JFK cannot buy her caress, but if he could relax a little . . ."

A sad case of White House frustration, then?

"A case of total incompatibility," Dr. Couchmaster declared. "The danger is something worse than a rejected suitor's broken heart. A scorned lover sometimes turns into a vindictive hater. It's bad enough for business to be cool toward the President, but it would be far worse for the country if the President developed a destructive malice toward business. This nation is still 80 per cent free enterprise, and 20 per cent Federal enterprise. They don't have to be in love, but they do have to remain on speaking terms."

After all, what can a President do to the country?

"Look to Massachusetts," said Couchmaster. "There we have Teddy Kennedy running for the Senate on the slogan, 'He can do more for Massachusetts.' It certainly doesn't mean that Teddy can do more than McCormack, Lodge or Curtis to soothe business and restore confidence in free enterprise. It means that Teddy can get more Government contracts for the shipyards, more public works and jobs. If the President really gets mad enough to fight business, he can put Federal enterprise in further competition at a time when he ought to be withdrawing the Federal competition. But my diagnosis is that this won't happen. He's a very intelligent fellow, you know."

Did Dr. Couchmaster mean that the pragmatist in Mr. Kennedy would win out over the wounded lover?

Brain Trust to Europe

"To the pragmatist, whatever works is right," averred Couchmaster. "The President has sent a brain trust to Europe to find out what makes prosperity. West Germany, of course, is the prime example. Financial Columnist Lawrence Fertig in his book, 'Prosperity Through Freedom' has a chapter entitled, 'How Our Experts Almost Ruined Germany.' The chief expert was Professor Walter Heller, now chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Well, it's history now that in 1951 Heller advised Germany to inflate its currency, lower its interest rates, practice price control and all the rest of a managed economy. German Economics Minister Erhard scoffed at the advice and went in big for private enterprise. Result: the miracle of recovery."

The President has this example at his elbow, doesn't he? Will he heed it and, perhaps, find sweet friendship with business, though not a love affair? Or will he ignore the example and hate the heart which can never be his?

"All physicians are eternal optimists," was Couchmaster's reply. "And Mr. Kennedy is a very intelligent fellow."

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

These mild summer nights remind us,
We could make our lives sublime
If we played our records softer
Out of doors after bedtime.

In this salubrious clime sounds carry far after nightfall. You'd be surprised at some of the things you hear and you hear them no matter how strongly averse to eavesdropping.

That's something to remember when pattering around the patio of a balmy moonlit evening.

NO SUMMER ever gets far along before a missive arrives in which an indignant citizen sets forth his views in inelegant words of his neighbors a block or so down the street who have their record-player, radio or TV blasting progressive jazz, rock and roll or a female in full voice skidding on the high notes.

There seem to be many squares left who claim this modern music makes them lose track as they try to count sheep.

WATCH ESPECIALLY the volume of your TV. You know how it is. The entertaining part may be rippling out in a dulcet murmur hardly enough to bother the grouchy old insomniac next door.

Then comes the commercial. The announcer booms out his praise of the sponsor's product with joyous abandon, loud enough to be heard five blocks away. And you know that some of our blocks are pretty darn long.

YOU CAN ACQUIRE an unmerited evil reputation, too, if you don't watch your radio.

I know a couple who recently celebrated their silver wedding anniversary and in all of that time I don't think either of them ever said or did anything which would tend to disrupt their beautiful 25-year friendship. But of late there have been some ugly rumors.

I OVERHEARD one kindly woman neighbor saying of them: "My goodness they fight like cats and dogs!"

In public, however, they seemed as lovey-dovey as ever so I did a bit of snooping.

You know what? A too-loud TV and an open window almost derailed that saga of marital bliss.

SEEMS THIS COUPLE like problem movies dealing with the trials and tribulations of domesticity. With all of the windows wide open, the evening being on the warm side, they forgot to cut the volume.

And the neighbors for doors around cupped their ears so they wouldn't miss a word of what seemed like a rock-em, sock-em family fracas.

IT WAS ONLY when the heroine (TV) screeched she was going to do herself in that events enabled my friends to regain their aura of compatibility.

For a nosy neighbor called police to come a-running to prevent the suicide.

After investigating, the officers of the law advised the couple to either close the windows or reduce the volume.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl who works where I work. She is very pretty, has a good figure and dresses well. There is only one thing the matter with her and nobody has the courage to tell her. Her neck is dirty!

You can see the line where she has washed her face but not her neck. The other employees laugh behind her back. I like her a lot and am the best friend she has here but, Abby, how can you walk up to a person and tell her her neck is dirty? Would an anonymous note be okay?

HATES TO TELL HER
DEAR ABBY: An anonymous note would be cruel. Stick your neck out (in the spirit of friendship) and tell her to wash hers. She'll probably thank you. And if she doesn't—well, it's HER neck.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and hate my parents more and more every day. You see, I have an air-conditioner in my bedroom, which means my 12-year-old sister sleeps in my room all summer.

I have no privacy at all and it is very crowded. My father slapped my face tonight for complaining about it. I want to run away and stay at one of my friend's houses, but everyone I know has a dog and I'm allergic to dog hair, among other things. Can you help me?

CROWDED AND ALLERGIC
DEAR C and A: If your parents insist on "forcing" the luxury of an air-conditioned room on you, don't argue. Relax and enjoy it. And you can't blame them for putting your sister's comfort before your "privacy." Your parents are doing the best they can. Stay home.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Four Top Winners In 'Some'R Rounders'

Three men and one lady golfer won top prizes in the 'Some 'R Rounders' 36-hole golf tournament Sunday at the San Jacinto Country Club staged during the weekend.

In the professional flight, Roger Pettit of Cochran-Odlum Ranch Club, carded a 72 on the final round Sunday to edge Gene Lesch, of the Canyon Country Club by one stroke as Lesch slipped to a 76 on the closing round.

Pettit posted a total score of 146 and Lesch, who topped the pros on the first lap Saturday with a par 71, finished with a 147 score.

From the strong field of more than 80 men golfers Harry Cirata Canyon CC course superintendent, won top honors in the first flight as he carded rounds of 71-73 for low net total.

In the second flight, with golfers having handicaps of 14 or better, Joe McGarry finished ahead of the pack with a low net of 133. McGarry carded rounds of 77-88 for first place honors and grabbed off the overall low net also.

Theda Bradley, of the women's club at the Palm Springs Golf Course, won first place in the field of women golfers playing in the ladies flight. Of the summer golf tournaments being staged this season in the "Winter Golf Capital of the World" this is the first time a women flight has been included and it proved very successful and popular with the gal golfers participating.

Following the final round of action Sunday afternoon, winners and runners-up in all the flights were presented with prizes by Jim Nicol and J. B. Teddy, both of the San Jacinto CC and Mark Wheat, tournament official.

Teddy, club manager of the San Jacinto CC, indicated at the conclusion of the 36-hole "Some 'R Rounders" tourney that because of the great success of the event and enthusiasm expressed by the entire field of golfers that possibly another such tourney will be staged in the near future.

Dodgers Face Cardinals

Crush Cubs In 7-Frame Game, 13-6

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Dodgers aren't sure what the Cards have in store for them but Los Angeles manager Walt Alton could be gambling to-night when he uses enigmatic pitcher Johnny Podres against St. Louis.

The Cardinals are the only team in the National League holding a seasonal edge over Los Angeles, having won five of nine games between the two clubs.

And despite entering tonight's series opener after sweeping a three-game stand against the Cubs, the Dodgers will be waiting nervously to see if Podres can once again be their ace in the hole.

Considered the Dodgers' outstanding pitcher the past few seasons, Podres in 1962 has only a 5-7 record. He went through a six-week stretch without winning a game. And in his last start he was beaten in the final inning by Cincinnati.

The chunky lefthander has not received the best of batting support from the Dodgers.

Had he been lucky enough to be hurling Sunday when Los Angeles bombed 65 hits and crushed the Cubs, 13-6, in an abbreviated game at Wrigley Field it is a good bet he could have been a winner.

However, Johnny has given up 139 hits and 65 runs in 132-3 innings — a fact that shows the man responsible for Podres' losing record is Podres.

Opposing the Dodgers this evening will be Bob Gibson (3-5) or Ray Sadecki (6-7).

The Dodgers' rout of Chicago Sunday could have been worse if Cub owner Philip K. Wrigley didn't stand so firm against lights at his ball park. But the combination of rain and darkness forced the umpires to call the fiasco with the Cubs at bat in the seventh inning.

Anyway, the Dodgers already had begun to slow down by then. They had scored five runs in the first, three more in the second and then five more runs in the next three innings before going scoreless in the sixth and seventh. Reliever Ed Roebuck, who took over for rookie Joe Moeller after the Cubs scored five runs, took the win and ran his record to 6-0.

U.S. Cinder Team Clips Russians

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Valeriy Brumel comes from Siberia and it's a cinch that he's not going to be sent back there.

The world's greatest high jumper became the first man to clear the bar at 7 feet, 5 inches Sunday as he electrified a dual track and field meet in which the United States bested Russia for the fourth straight time, 128-107.

It marked the second world mark to fall in as many days.

Harold Connolly of the United States demolished his world mark in the hammer throw Saturday with a fling of 231 feet, 10 inches. Brumel also bested his old mark of 7-4 1/2 and he did it on his very first shot at the 7 foot, 5 inch height.

But it only was one of the eight first places which the Soviet track and field squad could pick up while the United States men won 14 events.

The same old story prevailed in the women's battle however, where the Soviet gals displayed too much muscle and bustle. With Tamara Press racking up wins in the discus and shot put, the Russian women posted seven first places to the Americans' three and outscored them, 66-41.

City Baton Girls on TV

Over 40 baton girls from the city Recreation and Special Events Department will travel to Hollywood to appear on "Bozo" the clown TV show at 6 tonight and can be viewed on channel 5.

Mrs. Alice Crowe, instructor for the department, will be in charge of the group during the performance and everyone in Palm Springs is extended an invitation to view the show appearing on channel 5, which also carries "Beat the Odds".

29 Palms Swim Team Edged In Tank Meet

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The Twentynine Palms swim team was defeated for the first time this season in a meet with Indio-Cochella held Wednesday evening at the Recreation Park Pool here. The score was a close 238 to 225 with the onlookers cheering the local team on to the end.

WINS IRISH GOLF

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) — Christy O'Connor of Ireland equalled the course record with a 65 Sunday to win the $15,554 Irish Hospital's Golf Tournament with a 72-hole total of 271. Bob Charles of New Zealand was second, a stroke back, and Peter Segundo (Mex. Col.) and Peter Thomson of Scotland were third with a 279 total.

Tribe Wins Get-Away Tilt, 7-3

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Eli Grba who pitched the first Los Angeles major league victory last year against Baltimore, starts against the Orioles tonight as the Birds invade Chavez Ravine for a four-game series.

The Baltimore series concludes the current Angels home stand and the cinderella club was hopeful it could repeat the three-game sweep it recorded the last time the Orioles came here.

Milt Pappas, who was charged with the loss in the 1961 opener which Grba won, was scheduled to start tonight. Pappas currently holds a 9-6 record while Grba is 6-5 and will be after his third straight win.

The Angels lost a chance to gain a game and a half on the Yankees Sunday by dropping a 7-3 decision to Cleveland while New York was losing a pair to Washington.

But despite the loss, the Angels are now three games behind the Yanks and two games ahead of the third place Minnesota Twins who lost to Baltimore.

The snake-bitten Indians finally snapped their nine-game losing streak with a flourish by bombarding four of the five Angels pitchers they faced for 15 hits.

Don Lee took the loss as he lasted only two outs into the third inning and gave up six runs, four of them on two-run homers by Willie Kirkland and Jerry Kindall.

Keglers Korner

A slim one game margin separates league leading Cirones Bit of Italy from the three teams tied for second place in the 515 Scratch activity at P.S. Lanes. The second placers at this writing include Mitch's Steak House, Sunrise Shell and El Mirador.

Chuck Bergland rolled a 758 series and Vince Lombardi a strong 715 highlighting the evening as Cirones took four from Desert Air Conditioning putting them in the top position.

The Thursday Night Strikers, junior high level bowlers, concluded their last session with George Read shooting a high game of 147 with a 431 series. Diana Neil tallied a high series of 321; Rudy Salazar 333; Bruce Tarbutton 339; and Ray Loiz 317.

Results from the Hot Shot Banquets show Karen Wahlberg with a high game of 118. Dan Dines posted a solid 249 series and Jim Normandin a 200 series.

PGA CHAMPION Gary Player lets out a yelp after sinking a 38-foot putt for a birdie out of a sand trap on the 5th hole of the final round of the tourney at Aronimink Golf Club. Player edged Bob Goalby by one stroke to cop his first PGA championship. (UPI Telephoto)

GREAT VICTORY

Player Bags PGA Tourney

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (UPI) — Gary Player, the new PGA champion, had one more championship to go today to achieve his golfing ambition. When the 26-year-old 5-foot 7-inch South African shot an even par 70 Sunday to win the PGA title it left him only one more crown to go for his own "golfing grand slam."

"When I started out in this business of being a golf professional nine years ago," Player said, "I had one goal. That was to win the four big ones. Now I've got three of them—the Masters, the British Open and the PGA.

"All I need now is the U.S. Open and I am going to go out and get it next year."

The black-clad Player, who chews raisins to keep his strength and wears black because it makes him feel "warm and strong," finished eighth in the U.S. Open this year in which Jack Nicklaus beat Arnold Palmer for the title in a playoff. His best showing in the biggest one of them all—the U.S. Open—was in Tulsa in 1958 when he finished second four strokes behind the winner, Tommy Bolt. Player was the first foreigner to win this tournament since Australian Jim Ferrier won it in 1947.
